

Xpand IT releases new version of the Xporter Plugin for JIRA

Already available the 2.1.0 version of the plugin that lets you export documents to JIRA issues from word or pdf based on a business template. This new update is now available on Xpand IT website and on the Atlassian Marketplace

The latest update of the Xporter Plugin for JIRA allows users of this project management solution to export content directly from the platform using templates in doc. format for Microsoft Word or PDF documents. The main new features of this release include: integration and purchase via Atlassian Marketplace, the option to install multiple sample templates and compatibility with new export formats. Currently the plugin is used in some leading companies in areas such as Banking, Insurance and Airlines. Version 2.1.0 was officially launched on the 29th October and the official trial version can be purchased or requested through Xpand IT website or in the Atlassian Marketplace.

With this plugin, the Xpand IT offers you the ability to export data along with a customization component, all in an extremely simple and effective way. Project managers can export JIRA issues and thus create your custom reports in seconds. The plugin also allows you to define multiple templates so you can choose the most appropriate to each situation. Some of the most frequent cases are related to production of documents: project change log, product improvements, requirements to use in scrum meeting and many others.

The Atlassian – JIRA is a project management platform used by over 14,500 organizations in 122 countries around the globe. Xpand IT identified the opportunity to add value to this solution with a huge number of users worldwide and decided to create the Xporter Plugin for JIRA, which promises to make a revolution data exporting. Xpand IT is an Atlassian official partner and reseller in Portugal. With several customers across the world, we are a solid and innovative company which stands out as an expert in the areas of Enterprise 2.0, Business Intelligence, Business Process & Integration and Enterprise Mobility.

XPAND IT

With several customers across the world, we provide the top IT knowledge for our customers, so they can focus on their core business and still have the best IT resources for their company needs, seamless integrated into their business processes. We identify ourselves as a Team with Passion for Excellence, and we differentiate our services by having the best people with the best expertise in the following areas: Business Process & Integration, Business Intelligence, Enterprise RFID, Enterprise Mobility, IT Systems, Enterprise Applications. For more information, visit: www.xpand-it.com.