

Xpand IT and WSO2 announces strategic partnership for API management

Xpand IT has announced a strategic partnership with WSO2, in order to provide the WSO2 API Manager platform in the Portuguese Market. This solution 100% open source for API management, is used on some of the primary organizations of Fortune 500.

Xpand IT, a company specialized in BPM & Enterprise Middleware, Business Intelligence, Big Data, Enterprise Mobility and Collaboration & Development Solutions, has announced its official strategic partnership with WSO2. This partnership aims to reinforce the already existent offer on Enterprise Middleware, investing on a solution for API's publications, creation and management of a community of developers, as well as a scalable routing on API traffic. Like all WSO2 portfolio, the API Manager is 100% open source and it's easy to integrate in already existent infra-structures. Apart from the WSO2 partnership, the services/products portfolio within this field consist on reference technologies such as Red Hat/JBoss, Akana Software, TIBCO among others.

Pedro Gonçalves, Partner & Chief Technology Officer of Xpand IT stated: "This partnership with WSO2 is a significant milestone for us, since we believe that there are thousands of different scenarios where companies can benefit of a strategy based on APIs management. The WSO2 shares our vision, concerning the integration of business processes, offering a platform to distribute the consumption of APIs among internal teams, partners and programmers, to make possible the integration of information available on the administration portal in a simpler and faster way. This solution provides tools for API management in an enterprise context, helping clients to reach high levels of flexibility and performance, and adapting easily to an already existent infra-structure".

As for Nirosh Perera - Senior Director, Partnerships of WSO2: "Xpand IT has a long history with open source technologies and we are very proud of being able to count on Xpand IT as a reference partner in the Portuguese market. In this early stage, we want to provide a stronger support to our technological partners, in particular Xpand IT, with whom we are already developing our first few projects for companies within the Portuguese market. Considering the business vision, sense of commitment and recognized experience demonstrated in open source technologies, we believe this partnership is fully lined up with our global expansion strategy".
